

Players Using Tour Edge Exotics on PGA Tour Champions Earn Top 10 Finish, Four Top 25 Finishes in Mississippi

The winner of the Chubb Classic earlier this season on the PGA Tour Champions finished 7th this week at the Rapiscan Systems Classic with the same Exotics CBX hybrid he won with a month ago.

The Pensacola, FL resident has now earned three Top 10 finishes with an Exotics CBX in the bag and ranks 3rd on the PGA Tour Champions in scoring this season with an average of 69.11.

Four other players with Exotics CBX in their bags finished in the Top 25 at the Mississippi based event.

Scott Dunlap, a 2018 Exotics hybrid staff player, finished T11th after shooting a 67 Sunday. Dunlap also finished runner-up at the Cologuard Classic in early March with an Exotics CBX hybrid.

Tour Edge staffer Tim Petrovic finished T17th with two Exotics CBX fairway woods in play at the T23 Rapiscan Systems Classic. He currently ranks 22nd in the Charles Schwab Cup standings.

Also finishing in the Top 25 at the event this weekend was a former major winner who has been playing an Exotics CBX hybrid in the last five PGA Tour Champions events. The golfer is the only player in the history of the professional tours to have been awarded the Player of the Year honor on all three PGA Tours: the PGA Tour, the Web.com Tour and the PGA Tour Champions

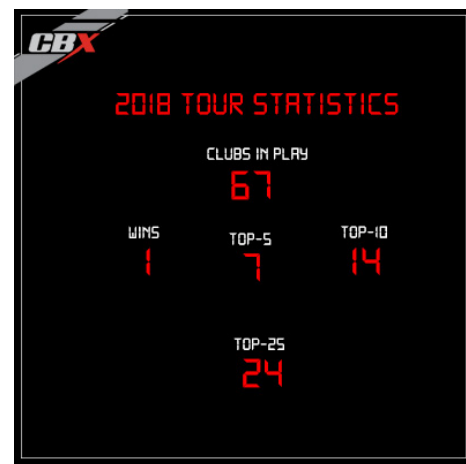

According to the Darrell Survey, 64 Exotics CBX fairway woods and hybrids have been put into play on the PGA Tour Champions over the first six events of the 2018.

Exotics CBX ranked as the #2 most played hybrid model at the Rapiscan Systems Classic and in five straight PGA Tour Champions events.

After six events on the 2018 PGA Tour Champions season, Exotics CBX metalwoods have been in play for one win, three runner-up finishes, seven Top 5 and 14 Top 10 finishes.

Tour Edge is keeping count of these tour statistics on a scoreboard on www.touredge.com.

This week on the PGA TOUR, a 15-degree Exotics CBX fairway wood made it into play at the Corales Puntacana Resort and Club Championship with a 4-time PGA TOUR winner, according to the Darrell Survey. The professional made the cut by shooting a bogey free 2-under par second round.

So far, Exotics CBX fairway woods and CBX Iron-woods have made their way into play on "the big tour" in 2018 strictly through player testing.

This is in addition to 64 Exotics CBX fairway woods and hybrids in play in only five events on the PGA Tour Champions so far this season.

Exotics CBX are the only metal woods ever designed to feature a Titanium face, stainless steel body and carbon fiber sole.

The Exotics CBX hybrid's higher CG is located slightly forward in the club head through the use of a carbon fiber in the sole, which is significantly lighter than stainless steel. This helps to increase ball speed and reduce spin, which makes for less dispersion. Tour Edge's extremely thin Beta-titanium cup-face enlarges the ideal hitting area on the clubs. It is brazed to stainless steel behind the hitting area which allows the face to flex more at impact, while the Speed Ramp sole design provides reduced turf interaction so the club can maintain its speed through the hitting area.
